DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Newly submitted claims 31-33 directed to an invention that is independent or distinct from the invention originally claimed for the following reasons:

The originally presents claims are drawn to a pharmaceutical composition comprising substance of the porphyrin synthesis, esters, acids or pharmaceutically compatible salts thereof in combination with a salicylate; wherein the pharmaceutical composition is for the phototherapy of psoriasis and inflammatory processes of skin and/or joints of mammals and humans and newly added claims are directed to a composition for treatment of arthritis.

Since applicant has received an action on the merits for the originally presented invention, this invention has been constructively elected by original presentation for prosecution on the merits. Accordingly, claims 31-33 withdrawn from consideration as being directed to a non-elected invention. See 37 CFR 1.142(b) and MPEP § 821.03.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 23-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Voet (US 2003/0176411) in view of Bar-Shalom (US 4,665,063) are maintained for reasons of record in the previous office action filed on 05/05/2010.

Claims 23-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Horrobin et al (US 5,145,686) in view of McMillan (US 2004/0048842) are maintained for reasons of record in the previous office action filed on 05/05/2010.

Applicant's arguments filed on 11/05/2010 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that there is nothing within any of these references that would suggest the use of a salicylic acid compound in a composition for phototherapy, nor that one would want to combine the three required ingredients of the present invention into a single composition for administration to treat one of the stated diseases, particularly by way of phototherapy.

The examiner respectfully points out the following from MPEP 2144.06:
"It is prima facie obvious to combine two compositions each of which is taught by the prior art to be useful for the same purpose, in order to form a third composition to be used for the very same purpose[T]he idea of combining them flows logically from their having been individually taught in the prior art." In re Kerkhoven, 626 F.2d 846, 850,205 USPQ 1069, 1072 (CCPA 1980). As all of the compounds have been individually shown to be utilized and effective in the treatment of psoriasis, and as all the references demonstrate combinations of the various compounds in a variety of formulations, the combination of all/or any of the claimed compounds is rendered obvious by the prior art. For example Voet (US 2003/0176411) discloses composition for treating dermal pre-melanoma conditions by photodynamic therapy and McMillan (SU 2004/0048842) discloses composition for treating skin disorders by photodynamic therapy. One would have been motivated to perform such combinations in expectation of achieving better treatments for psoriasis.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
